BASKET DERBY GETS UNDER WAY

Arlington Captures First Game Of Sectional Tournament This Afternoon From Raleigh

MEETS CONNERSVILLE NEXT

Connorsville Scores 60 Points Against Center In Second Game Of
Afternoon At O'clock

The Nashville sectional basketball tourney, got underway this afternoon at one o'clock, and a large crowd attending the opening session of the great classic, with 14
teams from Rush and Fayette counties entered in the start.

With Connorsville generally picked as the favorite, there was a great hope that some "dark horse"
would loom up, and capture the local district, giving them the right
to play in the regional next week
at Ft. Wayne.

The Rushville high school team is picked to be winner of their first game, meeting Everton tonight at 7:30. Alquina which plays Orange tonight in the last round of the first division of play, is reputed to have the best team in Fayette county,
aside from Connorsville, but they are not looked upon as a dangerous
foe.

Five games were on the schedule
this afternoon. Arlington won the first game this afternoon, and will play the winner of the Connorsville-Center game in the morning at 9 o'clock.

Arlington 23; Raleigh 21

In the opening game of the tourney, the Arlington team came out winners, defeating Raleigh, by the score of 23 to 21, staging a rally in the last half.

The first half ended with Raleigh
in the lead 8 to 5. Both teams played fast ball, and each missed many shots. Craig for Raleigh, hit the basket with more consistency than any other player, in the first half, but in the last half Nelson for Arlington
hit a fast stride.

Arlington was in a slump in the first half, and came back in the last
period, tied the score, and a real fishhook took place with first one in the lead, and then the other.

The line-up and summary:
Raleigh 21 Arlington 23
Clifton F. Readle
W. Newkirk F. Nelson
Craig C. Price
F. Newkirk G. Beckner
Rider G. Lee
Substitutions: Hill for Nelson.

Charlie And Intended Kiss And Make Up

Romance of Famous Comedian and Equally Well Known Tragedienne
is Patched Up After Break When Charlie Announces He's Too Poor
to Get Married

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Los Angeles, Calif., March 2.—Po-la Negri and Charlie Chaplin kissed
and patched up their romance today.

In twenty-four stormy hours the two film stars whose engagement was announced at Monterey a few weeks ago, have traveled the course which someone had in mind when they wrote about true love not running smoothly.

The reconciliation of the stars
came after a meeting at Pola's Hollywood home, which lasted into the early hours today. Charlie's limousine was parked outside and the comedian pleaded for hours with the actress to reconsider her determination, announced earlier in the evening, to break the engagement.

The brake between the famous comedian and the equally well known tragedienne was the result of a statement by Chaplin that he "was too poor to marry."

Just as Charlie felt he was "too
poor" to marry Pola, so she felt "he should get a rich American wife. I wish him luck."

As soon as the comedian heard of Miss Negri's announcement, he ordered his car and dashed to her home.

Inside, a dramatic scene took place. Gone was the Chaplin of the baggy pants and funny feet; it was Charlie in real life who fought amid the ruins of his romance to persuade
his emotional fiancée to change her mind.

In the early hours of the morning
Miss Negri announced to a crowd of waiting newspapermen that the battle had been won by Charlie. She had capitulated and was again wearing
the huge engagement ring which she gave up yesterday. Chaplin pointed to it—the symbol of his victory.

"We have made up," Miss Negri
told the newspapermen.

"Mr. Chaplin came to see me and he stayed way late and we talked it
all over and we are engaged again.

"Oh, I am so happy that I cannot sleep."

She declared Charlie told her he never said he was too busy to get married or too poor either.

Today the romance of the temperamental Pola and the funny Charlie
is swimming along in great shape
once more—having had its little storm that proves the rule of true
love.

AWARDED $554 RESULT OF AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Edward L. Brown, Run Down In Front Of Circleville School Is Awarded Judgement

HOWARD WARNER DEFAULTED

Judgement amounting to $554 was awarded this morning by Judge
Sparks in the circuit court against Howard Warner as the result of an automobile accident several months ago in front of the Circleville school when Edward L. Brown, a student at the school, and son of Cliff
Brown, was struck by the passing automobile.

The evidence in the case was heard, and the defendant defaulted.
The plaintiff demanded $5,000 judgment as the result of injuries received, and the court decided that $554 would pay the various bills
incurred in the accident.

Martin L. White is plaintiff in a petition filed in court, asking that a guardian be appointed for Cynthia White, his mother, whom he alleges is 84 years old, an because of the infirmities of advanced age
is incapable of managing her affairs.

VALUES HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

Schedule of Assessments For Live
Stock and Farm Products Agreed
Upon by Assessors

FEW LOWER THAN LAST YEAR

Suggestions of State Board Regarding Automobile Assessments to be Used Where Feasible

Township assessors and their deputies began their annual task of assessing property for taxation purposes today after agreeing on a schedule of values for live stock,
fowls and farm products at a meeting with the county assessor Thursday.

All other personal property not covered by the schedule fixed yesterday will be assessed at its true
cash value, in accordance with the provisions of the state tax law.

The assessors will follow the suggestions of the state board of tax commissioners in regard to the assessment of automobiles, which divides them into three classes and fixes the reduction from the original cost price, depending upon the number of years they have been used.
Assessors will use their judgment
largely in assessing automobiles,
however, because the deterioration
in automobiles depends not so much on their age as the way they have been used.

With the exception of hogs, practically all farm products listed in the assessor's schedule will be assessed for more this year than last. Hogs will not be valued as high for taxation purposes because the market
price is not as high as it was March 1, 1922. Clover seed, timothy seed and hay also show a slight reduction.

The schedule was taken up item
by item and the assessment value
was not fixed until there has been a motion and an unanimous vote.

The schedule of prices fixed for this year and a comparison with last year's prices follows:

Horses

First class farm horses, $150 to $200 each. Last year $100 to $150.
Good farm horses, $100 to $150
each. Last year $80 to $100.

First class three-year-old, $100
to $125. Last year $75 to $100.
First class two-year-old, $60 to $75 each. Last year $40 to $60.

First class one-year-old, $30 to $50 each. Last year $20 to $30.
First class record, $200 to $500
each. Same as last year.

Registered stallions, $400 to $600
each. No change.

Grade stallions, $200 to $300. No change.

Mules, same price as horses.
Jacks, $200 to $300 each. Same as last year.

Cattle

Cows, $60 to $100. Last year $40

URGES WOMEN TO JOIN KLAN BODY

Daisy Douglas Barr Asserts Men
Can't Make Country 100 Per Cent American Without Them

SPEAKS AT THE COLISEUM

Asserts They Will Join Protestant
Men In Ridding State Of Boot-
leggers, Bums And Thugs

The Rev. Daisy Douglas Barr,
formerly pastor of the Friends
church at Newcastle, addressed a Ku Klux Klan meeting at the coliseum in the city park Thursday night, urging women to join an organization similar to the Klan that is exclusively for women.

Admission to the meeting was by special tickets that were distributed throughout the county. The lights were not turned out as at the first public Klan meeting held here recently, but were on in full force and Mrs. Barr spoke in front of a fiery cross that hung from the ceiling of the stage.

The crowd did not compare in size with that at the first public meeting, but was enthusiastic and applauded many of the speaker's statements.

"We know that the men can't do
this thing alone," said the Rev. Mrs.
Barr near the conclusion of her address, "and we have in Indiana a one hundred per cent woman's organization that has as many members, in seven weeks as the Klan had in the first year. They are the best women in the state—artists,
literary and professional women,
and many from the homes of Indiana."

"We are going to join the Protestant Christian men in cleaning out of Indiana the bootleggers, bums
and thugs," she continued. "We are going to put the Bible in the schools where it was before the foreign element caused it to be taken out."

"Can you doubt the principles of an organization that takes for its emblem, the fiery cross, representing the blood of Jesus Christ," the speaker said, pointing to the electrically-lighted cross.

At the beginning of her address,
Mrs. Barr said that the mobilization of soldiers for the world war showed not only physical weakness, but a lack of patriotism in America. She asserted that thousands were found
who cared nothing for the flag,
nothing for the country and hid behind lies and flimsy excuses to avoid military service.

"We can't legislate patriotism into the hearts of the people," Mrs.
Barr declared. "Like the Christian religion, it must come from with-
in. There can be no patriotism for this country until there is Americanism."

"What are the enemies of our patriotism?" she asked. "We find
thousands of people in this country

SPARKS FROM CHIMNEY SET FIRE TO THE ROOF

Damage Estimated To $100 Done By Fire At Home Of George Smith
954 West Third Street

WATER THROWN ON FLAMES

Fire, which is believed to have been caused from sparks from a chimney, set fire to the roof of the residence occupied by George Smith, 954 West Third street, and a loss estimated at $100 resulted from the damage.

The blaze was discovered at 12:05
o'clock today and box 134, Third and Spencer streets, was pulled. The blaze was beyond the control of chemicals, and one line of hose was required to extinguish it.

The fire had gained considerable
headway before it was discovered,
and was eating its way rapidly
through the roof. A large section of the roof was burned, and water
did some damage to the interior of that portion of the house. The loss is covered with insurance.

No Divorce Suits Filed In February

World is Growing Better, or at Least
That Part of It Inhabited by Rush
County People, as 14 Licenses to Wed Were Issued and no Legal Separations Were Sought

NINE FIRE ALARMS IN MONTH

The world is getting better, or at least that portion of it inhabited by Rush county people is, because for the first time in many years a month
went by without a couple seeking a divorce.

In this respect February will take a place in a class by itself. Fourteen couples were granted marriage licenses during the same period of time. In the list of civil suits filed in the county clerk's office for February were 24 cases, and one was a suit to annul a marriage, but was not for divorce.

The year to date has included 22
marriages, and 4 divorce cases filed.
In the city of Rushville, during the month of February, there were nine
fire calls, with the loss for the month held to a minimum of $295. Most of the fires were due to bad flues, and two fires causing the biggest loss
were due to explosion of stoves, one being a coal oil heater, and the other
a soft coal stove.

The firemen report a low loss for 1923 during the first two months,
with the total estimated at $626,
embodied in a total of 13 fire calls.

STRUGGLE IN RUHR CENTERS ON TAXATION

Collection Of Taxes On All Products
New Scheme Of Invaders To Get Part Of Reparations

GERMANS PLAN CONFISCATION

Dusseldorf, March 2.—The struggle of wills in the Ruhr centered
today on the issue of taxation.

Following announcement by the German government that all goods
upon which taxes had been paid to the French and Belgians would be confiscated by the civil authorities
General Degoutte announced the invaders plan.

Collection of taxes on Ruhr products in the new Franco-Belgian scheme for securing a portion of the reparations payments they are missing through occupation. General Degoutte today decreed such collections effective on all wines, tobacco and cigarettes sold in the occupied area. Hotels and citizens who pay these taxes in defiance of their government's orders, will be given protection by the armies of occupation.

The situation narrows down to a shop keeper being forced to decide whether, when he makes a sale of articles on the new tax list he prefers to pay up to forty per cent to the French and Belgians, and run
the risk of having the goods confiscated or whether he chooses to refuse payment to the invaders and have them seize and confiscate the goods.

tion.

ing of more legumes, the use of ground limestone, adoption of better poultry methods and several have taken up the road dragging

M'CRAY SIGNS BILL

Indianapolis, Ind., March 2.—
Governor McCray today signed Representative Shaeffer's bill which passed the senate and the house and which would abolish the board of works in cities of the fourth class.

OPPOSITION TO BONUS INDICATED

Senate Refuses To Suspend Rules
And Put The Bill Up For Final Consideration

TWENTY VOTE AGAINST IT

"Blue Sky" Law Is Changed By
Senate To Make It More Effective
On McCray's Advice

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 2.—
Refusing to suspend the rules and put the soldier bonus bill up for final consideration, the state senate
today indicated it will not approve the bill.

Twenty-two senators voted in favor of disposing of the question immediately and sending it to Governor McCray.

Thirty-four votes are necessary to suspend the rules. Twenty voted against it. Seven did not vote.

The movement to bring the measure up for passage was quiet and orderly in contrast to the hated efforts of friends of the bill to force
the finance committee to surrender
it late yesterday. Senator Baxter, chairman of the committee, complied with previous senate instruction and submitted the bill without recommendations.

Senator Erni of New Albany moved
the rules be suspended. The roll call for suspension proceeded without debate. The vote was interpreted as showing the bill has 22 positive friends, 20 enemies and 7 who are "on the fence."

Four of the doubtful votes added to the 22 favorable ones would send the measure to the governor's office. Twenty-six votes are required to pass a bill.

When this effort failed administration leaders succeeded in suspending the rules and passing Governor McCray's recommendation for changing the "blue sky" law to make it more effective than it is now.
The vote on the measure was 29
to 8. It now goes to the house of representatives.

The administration tax bill so radically changed that even its friends
could not recognize it, was approved by the house, 69 to 11, and sent to the senate. The bill originally would have permitted the state
tax board to change property valuations within townships horizontally
but was amended so that only minor changes would be made in the present law.

The speed limit bill to prohibit motor vehicles from travelling
faster than ten miles an hour in business districts in cities, towns and villages, fifteen miles an hour in residential districts and twenty miles
on country roads was passed by the house 67 to 17 and sent to the senate.
Representative Pulse's bill to exempt property of the American legion in Indiana from taxation was approved by the senate, 31 to 1.

Republican and democratic friends
of the soldier bonus were united today in the common cause of getting
"a square deal" when the bill comes
up in the state senate.

Enraged over refusal of the finance committee to return the measure to the senate after a majority vote had directed it to do so, bonus
advocates felt salt on their wounds
when Lieutenant Governor Branch
received and gavelled through an adjournment motion over protests of unquestioned majority just as the

100 WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Could Wash Automobiles—

QUITE a bit of money can be made by washing automobiles. That is, it can be made if one has a steady list of customers. If I could wash automobiles I'd see to it that I had such a list.

I'd let folks know that I could wash automobiles. I'd tell them how much better and cheaper I could do it than the other fellow. I'd make it easy for them to get me to wash their automobiles. And after I'd once washed a car I'd make special prices for weekly work. Of course, I'd get my customers by advertising in the Want Ads of the Daily Republican. For through a small and inexpensive advertisement I could reach 11,000 people.

SECOND MASSACRE TRIAL IS STARTED

Opening Statements Are Made To Jury Selected At Marion, Ill., To Hear Miners Case

SIX MEN FACING CHARGES

Marion, Ill., March 2.—Opening statements to the jury in the second Herrin massacre trial were to be presented today.

The state, making its second attempt to convict alleged members of the mob that killed 21 non-union workers at the Lester strip mine last June, brought six men to trial on the specific charge of murdering Antonio Molkovich, World War veteran.

Two of the defendants in the present trial were acquitted of murder charges in the first massacre trial. Otis Clark, one of these men, is indicted on seven additional charges of murder, each of which attorneys for the state say will be prosecuted.

Tales of horrors never before told were expected to be presented in testimony in the present trial because of the fact Molkovich was murdered in the wholesale killings in the "power house woods", few details of which were brought out in the first trial.

States' attorney Delos Duty, of Williamson county and Angus W. Kerr, chief counsel for the Illinois mine workers and leader of the defense in the Herrin mine war cases were to deliver the opening address.

WOMEN BARTERED FOR LOVE OF MAN, REPORT

Police Investigate Story in Connection With Murder Of Fredrick Schneider, N. Y. Millionaire

FOUR WOMEN IN HIS LIFE

New York, March 2.—Reports that women bartered for the love of Fredrick Schneider, slain millionaire contractor, were investigated by police attempting to solve the mysterious murder today.

At least four women have been closely linked with the life of Schneider, investigators said. They have information that one of them a young and pretty divorcee, had an "agreement" with Mrs. Anna Buzzi his "housekeeper" that when he tired of the latter, his affections should be passed on to the former.

Mrs. Buzzi, held as a material witness in the case, under $25,000 bond, will in all probability be questioned as to these reports in a final effort to obtain a clue to the killing of Schneider as he drove his car along Sea View Avenue Road.

District Attorney Glennon believes that Schneider was shot by a woman who was infuriated when he planned a reconciliation with his wife, Mrs. Minnie Schneider, and is attempting to complete evidence along this line. He admitted today that Mrs. Buzzi may be released from custody as a material witness.

REPORT IS MADE ON SENATE PROBE

Committee Declares That Late Senator Watson, Georgia, Was Misinformed on Execution of Soldiers

IN THE LATE WORLD WAR

None Was Executed in France Without Court Martial on Fair Trial, Senate Committee Reports

Washington, D. C. March 2.—American soldiers were not executed in France without court martial or other fair trial, as charged by the late Senator Tom Watson, a senate investigating committee reported unanimously today.

In a brief report, the committee, headed by Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, said that Watson's charges were found to be without foundation.

"The committee is of the opinion," the report stated, "that the charges are not sustained by the testimony."

In a supplementary report, Senator Ernst of Kentucky, a member of the investigating committee, referred to the charges against Colonel Opie, an officer who during the hearings was accused by witnesses produced by Watson of having shot his orderly dead. This charge was "baseless," Senator Ernst said.

"The charge against Colonel Opie was published broadcast throughout the United States," said Ernst. "Our committee heard much testimony relating solely to this charge, and inasmuch as there is no court or other tribunal, which can pass upon the question of Colonel Opie's guilt or innocence, I deem it only fair to him to state that in my judgment there is no ground whatever for this charge against him."

The investigation, which grew out of charges in speeches to the senate, in which Watson exhibited pictures of a gallows, and said A. E. F., soldiers were strung up like pirates, lasted many weeks and much testimony was taken. The committee submitted the testimony to the senate along with the report.

NEW OPERATORS, IN CHARGE

Clarksburg Woman and Daughter Now at Milroy Phone Exchange

Mrs. Mabel Kincaid and daughter of Clarksburg have been placed in charge of the Milroy telephone exchange, it was announced today at the office of the Rushville Cooperative Telephone company, which owns the Milroy exchange and lines.

Mrs. Kincaid will succeed Roy Glidewell, formerly of Rushville, who has been in charge of the exchange for some time. He has accepted a position as a fireman on the Big Four railroad.

It was suggested by George Davis, manager of the local company, that patrons would help the service if they call by number instead of name as the new operators are not familiar with the names of the subscribers.

To Cure Whooping Cough With X-Ray, Physicians Say

Boston, March 2.—A complete cure for whooping cough by X-ray was announced today by officials of the Boston Floating Hospital.

The discovery, made by Dr. Henry I. Bowlitch and Dr. Edwin T. Wyman, prominent Boston physicians, is the result of many months of experiments. The floating hospital has tried the method on 26 cases, and pronounced the results amazing.

Until now physicians have been practically helpless in dealing with whooping cough, and could do little more than make the youthful sufferer as comfortable as possible.

aliens, who are untouched by our Americanism and who came here to fill their pockets with gold. Thousands of them are criminals."

The assertion that "We have all the Europeans we need" was greeted with applause. Mrs. Barr admitted that Europeans had brought us art and literature, but said that those who are coming to our shores now are not of the same class of 25, 30 and 40 years ago.

"Formerly they were from the northern part of Europe," she said, "but our immigrants are from southern Europe and they have not our ideals, either religious or educational. They are idiots, insane, diseased, criminals."

The speaker asserted the same thing is happening with the white race in America as happened with the red man and that it will be only a few more generations until the whites will be in the same position as the Indians today, unless they organize to combat the inroads of foreigners.

Mrs. Barr declared that 20 out of every 100 immigrants are naturalized, 20 accumulate a fortune and return home and live in ease and the other 60 stay here and send their money back home.

The speaker referred to the way the Klan had been misrepresented and added:

"If anything ever knocked me for a curve, it is this: That intelligent people who are supposed to have a good mind should believe all this riff raff and go along they see in the papers. They remind me of a cipher with the rim rubbed off."

The speaker asserted that every county seat town, with the possible exception of Brown and a few others in southern Indiana, and its foreigners who own and control the clothing, laundry, mechanical shoe repair business and some times the restaurants. She pictured foreigners putting Americans out of business because they can live inexpensively. It shows a lack of patriotism not to stand by American industries, the speaker said.

Mrs. Barr asserted both white Americans and negroes are entitled to equal residence here, but that selfish interests are using the negro vote for their purpose. She declared the call had been issued for 100,000 negroes to become Catholic priests and that the trend towards the Catholic church on the part of the negro race was very pronounced. The speaker said this was dangerous because the Catholic church is a military organization, requiring an oath to the pope in Rome.

"This is a struggle for the rebirth of the white race," declared the Rev. Mrs. Barr, "for the rebirth of that people that God has chosen for the preservation of civilization, education and the Protestant religion. The biggest business you can be engaged in now is being a 100 per cent American."

She said the Klan was the friend of the negro race.

"Why this holler about paying the war loans due the United States?" she asked, and answered with the statement that Jews financed the war and now want to wipe the slate clean by debt cancellation so they can get their money back, regardless of what the consequences might be.

Mrs. Barr said the Klan was sweeping the country and that every enemy it has is a help. She asserted no organization had ever been persecuted as the Klan has been and that it may be known by the people opposing it. As opponents she classed bootleggers, Romanists, women who don't want to be honest, respected American mothers and others.

SUGGESTS RAIL CONSOLIDATION

Hale Holden Proposes Combining all Roads West of Mississippi into Four Gigantic Systems

PLAN BEFORE COMMISSION

Substitute for Interstate Commerce Commission's Plan Drafted Under Transportation Act

Washington, D. C., March 2.—Consolidation of all the railroads west of the Mississippi into four gigantic systems was proposed to the interstate commerce commission by Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad.

Holden laid his plan before the commission as a substitute for the commission's plan drafted under the provisions of the transportation act of 1922 to consolidate American railroads into a limited number of systems. This plan contemplates seven systems in western territory.

The principal feature of Holden's plan is that each system would have access to Chicago, the Pacific coast and gulf ports. The commissions' plan contemplates five great transcontinental bridge line systems excluded from gulf territory which would be served by two independent groups.

The principal road of each group as set forth by Holden would be: Group 1. Chicago; Burlington and Quincy; Great Northern; Northern Pacific; Colorado and Southern; Chicago and Great Western; and Kansas City Southern.

Group 2. Santa Fe; Chicago and Northwestern; St. Louis, Southwestern and the Western Pacific.

Group 3. Southern Pacific; Rock Island; El Paso and Southwestern Missouri Pacific, and Missouri, Kansas and Texas.

Group 4. Union Pacific system, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; St. Louis, San Francisco system and the Texas and Pacific.

Each of these systems would in addition include smaller roads now operating in the territories of the proposed systems. Each system would operate about 30,000 miles of line.

If finally constituted each of the systems would virtually have two transcontinental lines under its control.

Holden stated that the Burlington Northern Pacific; Great Northern and Colorado and Southern were prepared actually to consolidate if authority of the commission were given and urged that this permission be granted so that a real beginning could be made in carrying out this important provision of the transportation act.

Kellogg's Bran is Guaranteed to give relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Relief from constipation, whether it be mild or chronic, will follow the regular, every-day taking of Kellogg's Bran. We have thousands of letters from former sufferers who tell us that the natural "bulk-action" of this wonderful cereal product has given relief they have not known for years. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will free the system from constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a composition in which bran is added. If constipation is to be permanently relieved, you must eat ALL BRAN—that's why your physician will recommend Kellogg's for constipation.

Constipation creates toxic conditions which poison the blood and every organ of the body. It slows you down mentally and physically, and creates sick headaches, nausea, bad breath, pimples—finally, in many cases, leading to frightful disease, diabetes and other dreaded illnesses. You must fight constipation with Kellogg's Bran regularly if you want health!

You'll say Kellogg's Bran is really delicious—it has a nut-like flavor that appeals to the most fastidious appetite. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot or cold cereals or cooked with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonsful of bran for each person. Be certain to eat at least two tablespoonsful in chronic cases. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels, clubs and restaurants in individual packages. It is sold by all grocers.

Income Tax Returns

Many people who are now working out their income tax returns, are fuming and tearing their hair over the bother of the thing. Some of them feel sore at the amount which
the government asks them to pay,
and Uncle Sam seems an insatiable
creditor who never ceases to hound
them.

Meanwhile others whose incomes
are small enough to give them exemption, are fretting because they have never earned enough money to come into this list of taxpayers.
They would gladly enough pay such an assessment if they could only climb into that class.

The income tax demand scratches a man's soul to see if he is honest. If he wants to cheat, he may often do so without getting caught. And some people share part of their burden without really meaning to. It is natural to exaggerate one's losses
and exemptions, and minimize gains
and assets.

The income taxpayer, instead of fretting over his bothersome return
or bemoaning the payment demanded, should feel a sense of pride. The summons to pay this tax, from which the majority of his fellow citizens
are exempt, means that he achieved
more than average success, for which he should be glad and thankful.

Also he should meditate on the

The Saving Habit

Occasionally we hear of some youngster who has acquired a habit
of saving his pennies instead of rushing right off to buy candy.

That is a good habit, and later in life he will be saving many dollars
instead of a few pennies.

Saving comes easy to people who get the habit, and the habit comes easy if it is taught to the youngster
when he begins to receive his first pennies.

The boy who learns to save in his young days never wants for funds in his old age.

But the lesson is seldom learned
unless his parents are the teachers.

Evidence of Value

Consider the merchant who advertises. There is a reason for his doing so.

If his goods were not worth advertising he would not spend his money in advertising them, for merchants can not spend money in that way unless they get dividends on their investment in the way of increased sales.

The mere fact that a dealer offers
you something through the columns
of this paper is in itself an evidence that the article is worth having, for
if it would not stand inspection he would not be calling everybody's attention to it. He would be like Barnum—waiting for a sucker to come along.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, March 3, 1908

One of the foulest, most brutal
and atrocious murders ever committed in Rush county occurred last night about twelve thirty o'clock,
when Charles Coleman, a colored farmer, was killed, being attacked
with a hatchet and beat over the head
and his throat cut with a sharp instrument, almost severing the head from the body. There is a deal of mystery surrounding the murder and the officers are doing all in their power to clear it up. Several clues are advanced and nothing will be left undone to run the guilty party to ground. At present, there is much work being carried on in the dark
by the officials, for the throw the glare of limelight on all developments at such a time, causes many garbled and exaggerated stories to become current.

SPORT CHATTER

Chicago—The Chicago Cub rear guard, completing the club's roster for the year, was enroute for Catalina Island today, and will stage the formal opening of spring training there Monday. The last squad left Chicago yesterday, led by Secretary John Seys.

Marlin, Texas—Sore arms and stiff backs were general among the White Sox infielders here today, following the first work out of the year. Earl Sheeley is still among the hold-outs.

Omaha, Neb.—Adolph Anderson, Omaha A. C., established a new midwestern A. A. U. swimming record here last night when he swam the senior 100 yard free style in 1:02 3-5. The former record, 1:04 3-5, was held by John McClintock, Iowa University.

St. Moritz. — Bad hands will prevent Georges Carpentier meeting Battling Siki for months, the former European champion said here. Doubt that he ever will meet his conqueror was expressed in his statement that "there isn't much interest in another bout with him."

AMERICAN BOXERS GO TO ENGLAND

TO TRY OUT MUCH VAUNTED ENGLISH BRAUN
Left to right: Freddie Welsh, one time lightweight champion and Jack Sharkey, bantam, who show what they will do to the English fighters when they get to the other side. The two American fighters will appear in the squared circle in Great Britain and fight fans there are anxious to see their stuff. They sailed from New York on the S. S. Baltic.

Hittin' 'Em & Missin' 'Em

Fourteen teams were on the edge at noon today waiting for the word to go. When the last game ends tonight, one-half of them will be eliminated, and seven will remain for games Saturday. Hittin' 'em's guess is that the seven will be Raleigh, Connersville, New Salem, Manilla, Milroy, Rushville and Alquina.

Dope all season has been running in a wild stream. We predict some strange things in the 48 sectionals, as well as the regionals and state tourney. Some place in these sectionals will be dark horses. Some team will be overconfident and slip a cog. Look out for some of these upsets.

Although we have been pickin' Anderson, yet we won't be too sure of that until they pass by Elwood on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The team which we figure as being one of the runners up, will be Richmond. Keep your eye on 'em.

Although Newcastle has their eyes on Ft. Wayne, they had a most unlucky draw, by picking Shelbyville for their first game. Last year they had the same tough luck, only worse, by drawing Vincennes. Shelbyville is due to get defeated, and we can't see why Newcastle couldn't spring that surprise at Ft. Wayne.

Spiceiland, all dressed up, have set their goal for Ft. Wayne, after they get through with Newcastle.

REAL WEATHER IS HERE

The weather man sure is good to old Indiana. More like track and field day work, than inside basketball.

GO TO IT, JOHN

John Geraghty and his Webb tossers have something up their sleeves. They play Milroy at five o'clock today, and perhaps the secret will leak out then. Some of the difficulty experienced before in the county tourney by Webb, may be ironed out for the game today. We always like surprises, John. Help yourself.

Dear Hittin' 'Em:

I noticed in your column the other night the choice of an all-county team as picked by a county fan. I would like to ask this fan why he did not give Phillips of the local crew a berth on his team. Last year the local floor guard was placed on the all-state second team by the foremost sport critics, Blaine Patton and Heze Clark. If Phillips was deserving of all-state mention, doesn't it seem logical that he should be picked as one of the best in his own county? I don't know who submitted the selection but he surely must have forgotten the pivot man for the Red and Black tossers.

Below is my selection of an all-county team:

FORWARDS

McNamara, Rushville.
Baker, Manilla.
Talbert, Webb.

CENTERS

Redmond, Milroy.
Gosnell, Moscow.

GUARDS

Phillips, Rushville.

Cowan, Milroy

McCorkle, Milroy.

I. AM A., R. H. S. ECOSTER

A tip to Rushville: Don't fool yourself with Everton tonight, just because the second team defeated them. You know the second team has the edge over you, and even over Vincennes, according to the dope.

The only way you first string men can set aside that feeling that the second team is better than the first is to go in and win the tourney—then we won't mention it again.

And once more, let's all boost for a Rush county team in the final game. Connersville is the favorite of the tourney, but some Rush county team will be their opponent, and let's help 'em win.

The first team to arrive upon the scene today, was from Bentonville. They came in on the Pennsylvania at 7:20 this morning, and spent the morning looking the town over. Other delegations began to arrive before noon, indicating a large crowd for the event.

When it comes to a window display, the Maury Company takes first prize. An appropriate window, with individual pictures of the Rushville team, before a background of red and black draperies and with the basketball and goal in place.

"Pat" Collier, the photographer, handed out a liberal supply of pictures of the team, and almost every store room had one in their window. The pictures were donated with his compliments.

TWO PRISONERS EXECUTED

Five Applications Of Electricity Necessary To Kill Negro Murder

Columbus, Ohio, March 2.—Two men were executed at Ohio penitentiary early today.

Five applications of electricity covering a period of 11 minutes were necessary before the prison physician pronounced Henry White, negro, dead. White was convicted of murdering his wife here in February 1922.

Charles Arnold, 65, went to the chair jauntily. He was pronounced dead after three applications. Arnold was found guilty of choking his landlady, Mrs. Ruth Lawrence.

Prison officials said the fact that White had refused to drink water yesterday made his execution unusually difficult.

Carpentier's Hands Gone

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 2—Now that Battling Siki has the shackles off and is free to do some more fighting the gorgeous Georges Carpentier, who had a lot of his floss knocked off by the cave-man, has suddenly decided that the public isn't interested in the return bout that he has been yelling for.

While Siki was virtually caged up by the boxing authorities, Carpentier ran up and down in front of the bars barking like a terrier, delivering rights and lefts of wicked words. He called Siki everything and he couldn't wait until nine months should pass so that he could sock Siki.

Then it came to pass that Siki was released after serving three months' suspicion and when he came out of his cage, Carpentier suddenly lost his voice.

The action of the Frenchman bring back an affair between a mule and a bulldog before the last Army-Yale football game.

Two Yale students were on the field with a most magnificent bulldog towed along on a leash. Two Cadets marched by leading a gaunt old mule and the bulldog fairly went into convulsions of wrath. He stormed and fumed and sought desperately to get at the mule, until—

His leash was removed.

With nothing to keep him from his threat to tear the mule to pieces, he ceased his outburst and rather embarrassed and humiliated-like he crept around back of his keepers and flattened out on the turf.

French boxing authorities declare that Carpentier is through, that he ought to admit it and retire. They base their opinion on the statement of physicians that his hands are gone and that he never will be able to put any force behind his blows.

If the Frenchman's hands are gone he is through, because no boxer can succeed without hands. A smart brain and a game heart will carry a boxer along after most everything else is gone, but nothing will avail him when the old mitts have turned brittle.

Senate was getting warmed up to the fight.

Senators of both parties insisted that every possible means would be brought into play to force Senator Baxter, chairman of the finance committee, to bring the bill on the legislative floor and permit it to be approved. There was every indication that the senate would pass the bill and send it to the governor.

Carrying provisions for a referendum, the bill would grant $10 to each Indiana veteran of the Spanish and World wars for each month they spent in service not to exceed $250.

A miniature revolt sprang up among the republican "bonus bloc" threatening the remnants of Governor McCray's shattered financial program, unless their republican colleagues submit to the bonus.

Scope of the revolt of the narrow G. O. P. majority in the house spread and jeopardized the administration bill to amend the tax laws.

Another effort was in the cards today to reconsider the measure. It had failed late yesterday 49 to 42. A constitutional majority of 51 votes is necessary for passage of a bill, but all bills lacking that vote and not defeated by a majority may be recalled.

There was parliamentary quibbling over the measure and Oscar Abgren, republican floor leader, requested that the vote for a recess be announced. Playing for time, Speaker Morgan picked up an apple from his desk and said as he began to peel it:

"I can't announce it now I have got to eat this apple first. It is going to take me just fifteen minutes."

He proceeded to eat, but sufficient republican votes to pass the bill could not be mustered during the period.

The Dunes park bill was before the senate for action today following passage by the house yesterday. The vote was 52 to 24, a bare majority. The bill, sponsored by the department of conservation, carries a tax levy of 2 mills a year for seven years to raise money with which to buy a tract of land three miles along the south shore of Lake Michigan in the sand dunes.

Drunken automobile drivers could be fined $50 and sentenced to imprisonment of not more than a year under a bill passed by the house late yesterday and sent to the governor for his signature.

when they had little opposition with Center. The final score was 60 to 8.

The Center team was completely outclassed in size, and Connersville had little trouble in playing the ball above their heads, and making goals with ease. The first half ended 40 to 1.

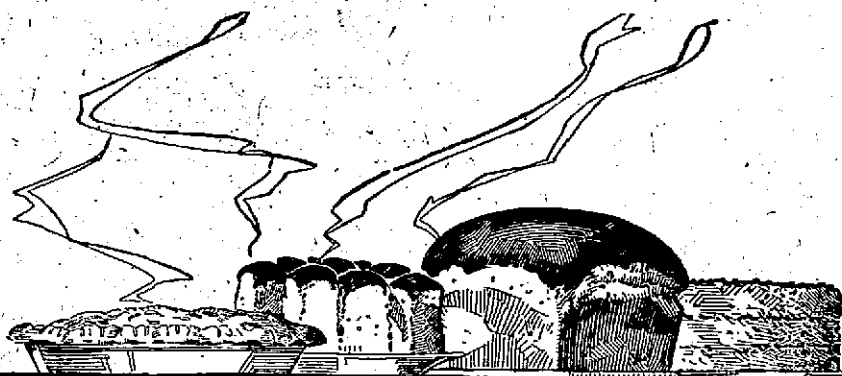

In the last half the Connersville team ran in their substitutes, and counted 20 more points. Center made one field goal, which came toward the end of the game.

RUSH COUNTY BOYS STUDY MEDICINE

Wilbur Cox of This City and George Yeager of Richland Being Trained in I. U. School

COX AT INDIANAPOLIS

Cox and Yeager of Richland are Taking Most Expensive Course of Professional Courses

Bloomington, Ind., March 2.—Wilbur J. Cox, of Rushville, and George Yeager, of Richland, are among 330 of the state's future doctors now being trained in the Indiana university school of medicine. Yeager is in his third year and Cox is in his fifth year. The full course consists of six years' study, two years of regular college work and one year of medical work at Bloomington and three years of medical work at Indianapolis.

Yeager is not at Bloomington while Cox is at Indianapolis where he has an opportunity to observe the treatment of hundreds of cases each year in the five hospitals and dispensaries to which I. U. medical students have clinical access. In these institutions, the Robert W. Long hospital, owned by the university, the city hospital, the Central Indiana hospital for the insane, the city dispensary, the laboratory of the state board of health, and in the medical school itself, more than 88,000 patients are treated annually. The new Riley hospital for children, to be under the administration of the university will provide still further clinical facilities for I. U. students.

Upon graduation from the I. U. medical school, rated in class A since the first classification of American medical schools was made in 1905, the Rush county students will be eligible to examination for one each of the 56 positions open to I. U. graduates as resident physicians in hospitals over the state. He will also be eligible to examination for a license to practice in any state in the union. Some idea of the advantage which this may give the Rush county students can be gained from recent statistics of the American Medical Association which show that a total of 53 medical schools in the United States are not recognized by licensing boards in various states as given sufficiently complete and satisfactory courses to entitle their graduates to examination for a medical license.

Cox and Yeager are taking probably the most expensive course of all professional courses. The annual cost of a medical education at I. U. including board, room, clothing and recreation, found by an investigating committee last year to be $787.93, was lower than in any other one of eight leading medical schools examined. The average cost was $889.80. Not only was the cost lowest at Indiana university but the average annual earnings of $312.85 for each student were, with one exception, the highest in any of the eight schools. Dean Charles P. Emerson, of the I. U. school of medicine, is now president of the American Association of Medical Colleges.

Income Tax Facts

NO. 25.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has at its command innumerable sources of information for checking up delinquents. Under the "information at source" provisions of the revenue act returns of information are required of all persons, trustees, guardians, fiduciaries, and by corporations, and partnerships, and organizations, and officers and employees of the United States who paid to others during the calendar year 1922 $1,000 or more.

Income to be reported includes interest, rent, premiums, salaries, "and all fixed and determinable income." A separate return of information for each employee whose salary for 1922 was $1,000 or more is required of employers. Special attention is directed to the requirement that partnerships, in addition to filing a regular partnership return on form 1065, shall file an information return showing the salaries paid each member of the partnership.

Payment for overtime fees, commissions, bonuses, shares in the profits of a business, and the fair value of board and lodging furnished as part payment for services should be included in the total salary paid. Banks and similar organizations are required to report interest paid or credited to a depositor if the total during the year equaled or exceeded $1,000.

Returns of information are filed on Form 1099. Form 1096, on which must be shown the number of separate returns, serves as a letter of transmittal. Information returns must be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Sorting Section, Washington, D. C. Collectors of Internal Revenue are not authorized to receive these returns.

The period for filing is from January 1 to March 15, 1923. Information returns are carefully checked with individual returns. If in a taxpayer's individual returns a payment reported on an information return is omitted, quick action by the Board of Internal Revenue follows. Thousands of delinquents, and additional taxes aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars, have been discovered as the result of this audit.

Jack Holt At Princess

For the second time within a short period, Jack Holt, Paramount star, appears in an adaptation of a popular Peter B. Kyne story, "Making a Man," which will be on view at the Princess theatre today and Saturday. Recently he was star of "While Satan Sleeps," in which he scored a knockout success.

"Making a Man" is the story of a wealthy young snob, a tyrant among his employees and neighbors alike, who puts one straw too many on the camel's back, so to speak. His life threatened, he escapes to New York. There he loses the little money and clothing he took in his hurried flight, and finds himself unable to draw on his credit. Broke, hungry and tired, he meets on a park bench, "Shorty" McCabe, a down-and-out. From Shorty the man Winsby, played by Mr. Holt, learns the definition of a real man. Of course, there is a girl in the story, this role being done by Eva Novak. Others in the cast include Bert Woodruff, Frank Nelson, Robert Dudley, J. P. Lockney, and Kalla Pasha.

At The Mystic Today

Mothers have one undeniable fault they love their children too much. They make life hard by making it too "soft."

This is the theme of the Universal picture of which Edward (Hoot) Gibson is the star, showing at the Mystic Theatre today only. It is "Ridin' Wild," written by Roy Myers and directed by Nat Ross.

The story was written particularly for Gibson's use as the first step in a policy of taking him out of the straight "western pictures." It is certainly true that this story, without its guns and the desert chase would fit into any locale. The fact that the West is the locale in this is only incidental. It could be Hickville, Middle West.

Unable to do anything that "the other fellows" do without hurting his mother's feelings, the climax comes to the troubles of Cyril Henderson when his mother asks him not to go out with a posse that is being hurriedly gathered for a man-hunt. He doesn't go.

Fate puts the elements of his trouble into a fine climax and gives him a chance to own up to a murder and a few other rough boys' games, thoroughly satisfying even the meanest gun toter of the community.

Edna Murphy, Wade Boteler, Gertrude Claire, William Welsh, Wilton Taylor, Otto Hoffman, Birton Wilson, Jack Walters and others play principal roles.

It is probably the most human role that Gibson has played. He, of course displays bravery in a later phase of the story, but in the first part of it he clearly portrays the helpless coward. It isn't a charge against mothers, it is simply a statement of the fact that they love too much.

DEFICIT TO BE $30,000,000

Retiring Postmaster Gives Report To President Harding

Washington, March 2.—The postal deficit during the fiscal year ending July 1 will be $30,000,000, Hubert Work, retiring postmaster general stated today in his biennial report to President Harding.

Work predicted that during the next fiscal year the deficit will be completely eliminated.

Last year the loss was about $60,000,000.

Because of the huge increase in parcel post traffic, plans are being considered for partially diverging this service from the fast letter mail.

The railroads would handle parcel post once every 24 hours and in many instances include a large parcel post shipment in a fast freight train.

THE HOME GARDEN

DRAW YOUR GARDEN PLAN NOW

By F. C. GAYLORD

(Horticultural Department, Purdue University)

Have you made your garden plan for next year? If not it is time to get busy so that you can determine how much seed you need and order it early. Sit down some evening soon with your family and put your 1923 garden on paper.

How much of each vegetable are you going to plant? A mistake you may have made the past season was to plant too much of some vegetables and not enough of others. Provide for needs of your family in the rows you allow for each vegetable.

Have your last year's plan in mind so that you do not place the crops on the same section of the garden as they were last summer. Rotate your crops. That is, plan to put tomatoes where your cabbage was planted, cabbage where there were tomatoes and so on.

Always plan to plant in rows rather than beds; and do not make paths through the garden unless necessary. If your plot is large enough for wheel hoe cultivation, run the rows the long way of the garden.

How should the various crops be grouped? Perennials such as asparagus or rhubarb should be placed at one side; next to them the group of earlier vegetables, such as early radishes, early peas, leaf lettuce or early turnips; next the groups that you will plant a few weeks later such as onions, chard and cabbage, then the ones that you will plant when the weather starts to get warm such as bush string beans; finally the rows of tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers and squash.

In your plan, make provision for the sowing of companion and succession crops. Arrange your plan so that when one crop is harvested another vegetable can be sown between the old rows or new plantings in the space vacated. Do not be content to raise a single crop, when two or three are possible.

If there is a variation in the soil in different parts of the garden, that must be considered. If part of your soil is higher and drier than the rest plant your early crops there to give them the advantage of quick warm soil.

Grow a large enough garden to supply the family with both summer and winter vegetables.

HOOSIERS MAY LOSE MONEY

Postal Authorities to Investigate Speculation in Russian Roubles

South Bend, Ind., March 2.—Hoosiers who have sent money to the state bank at Moscow, Russia, with a view of speculating in roubles at several million to the dollar stand to lose the entire amounts remitted.

In a number of instances that have just come to light here, speculators mailed American currency to the Moscow bank under registered United States mail. They inclosed sufficient money in addition to the amount to be converted into roubles for postage and requested that deposit slips be forwarded to them.

Several months have passed and nothing has been heard from the Moscow bank and now United States postal authorities have been asked to investigate the situation.

Home Life Menaced

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength or some ailment develops because of overwork. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them.

CONSTRUCTION WORK TAKES BOOM

Revivals Will Absorb All Unemployment And Will Result In Shortages In Some Sections

FARM LABOR TO BE ACUTE

Serious Situation Is Seen In View Of The Large Wheat Crop Expected This Year

Washington, March 2.—A brisk boom in construction work with a parallel improvement in business and industry generally, is opening up through the country, according to reports from all the states made public by the labor department.

This revival will largely absorb all unemployment and will result in shortages in some sections, the reports indicate.

Only negligible unemployment exists now, due mostly to seasonal conditions and this is expected to be entirely eliminated within the next three months.

The most optimistic reports came from the middle west with generally encouraging signs noted in other sections. The least encouraging report was from South Carolina where unemployment conditions were described as "only fair."

Labor shortage of varying degrees and in several occupations specially in agriculture in the west, north west and south were reported.

Illinois and Ohio have launched especially ambitious building programs, and Minnesota and Indiana reported a very optimistic industrial outlook.

The shortage of farm labor this season is going to be very acute, the farm labor bureau at Kansas City advised the department in a general report. This is due to the much larger movement from the farms to the cities last year than normally, occasioned by the disparity between agriculture and industrial wages.

A serious situation is seen by the bureau in view of the large wheat crop expected this year. The supply of regular farm hands last year it reports, was not equal to the demand at any time.

MOST SUICIDES ARE CAUSED FROM POISON

Thirty-Five Out Of Every Sixty Suicides Were Affected By Poison, According To Statistics

RATE IS INCREASING

Indianapolis, Ind. March 2.—More than half of the people in Indianapolis who committed suicide during 1922 took their lives with poison from the corner drug store.

Thirty-five out of every sixty suicides were affected by poison, statistics available today showed. More than half of those choosing the poison route swallowed carbolic acid, lysol or some other common form of poison.

According to physicians here, the rate of suicides by poisoning is increasing more rapidly than the total number of suicides. Some laid this to the fact that anyone who wishes can obtain poison of some sort.

Ranking next to poison as a means of "ending it all" came firearms.

It used to be the "vogue" when the crops failed or the stock all died or triplets were born to hunt up an old piece of rope and jump from a rafter in the barn. Although hanging carries away honors for third place, it isn't as popular a method as it used to be.

When it comes to cutting most of those who wish to take a chance on conditions in the next world use a razor, the police records show.

DECLARES SENATORS LACK MORAL COURAGE

Votes of Senators Controlled by Fear of Political Elements, Says Senator Calder

IN HIS FAREWELL ADDRESS

Washington, March 2.—The votes of United States Senators are controlled by fear of political consequences, Senator Calder, New York Republican declared in one of the most remarkable "swan songs" heard in the senate in recent years.

Calder, who retires to private life next Sunday, in delivering his farewell, severely arraigned the senate for its lack of courage in dealing with great public questions.

"The trouble here," he said, "is that we have been afraid to tell the truth; we have been afraid to act on the truth. We are fearful of ever move that we make; every vote that we make. A Senator recently said to me that he had made it a practice never to vote against a bill which a considerable group of his people favored. We were talking of the Esch-Cummins bill, the soldier bonus and the prohibition law."

Calder roundly condemned the formation of blocs in congress and pleaded for an end of sectionalism in legislation.

MANY OLD TIMERS TURN BACK HOME

"Uncle Joe" Cannon is Among the Statesmen Who Give up Seat in National's Capital

MANY NEW ONES TO COME

Each Branch Will Have Many New Members, Including Successor to Alice Robertson of Oklahoma

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 2—Farewells to the political life of Washington are now being said by a comparatively large group of the outstanding men in Congressional life during the last decade.

Some were going back home at the order of the voters. Others just decided to quit.

Heading the list of those voluntarily retiring is the veteran, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, a member for 46 years. Another notable figure who will pass off the stage here is "Joe" Fordney of Michigan, chairman of the House, Ways and Means Committee, who has served 12 continuous terms. House Republican Leader Mondell, having failed to win election to the senate, retires after 13 consecutive terms.

Then there are those senate veterans—Cullbertson, Tex., McCumber, N. D., who have served since 1899 Page, Vt., who has been here since 1908; John Sharp Williams Hitecock Townsend and Poindexter, who have served since 1911, and several others who are leaving after one term.

The House also will lose its veteran dry legislator, Rep. Volstead, and Rep. Campbell, Kas., who has worked up to the chairmanship of the powerful rules committee. Scores of others will not be in the new congress, among them "Aunt Alice" Robertson, the lady from Oklahoma.

Mingled with the "Good by, good luck" which friend extends to friend in the halls of congress, is this query:

"Do you think you will ever come back?"

It is a time of farewells, the breaking of ties which it hurts to break, and for some men the curtain which marks the finish of the great drama in which they have been actors.

"Are you sorry to go?" was the question put to men like Hitecock, Pomeroy, John Sharpe Williams—who retires voluntarily—McCumber, Poindexter and New.

"Yes and no," said Senator Hitecock, who leaves behind him the memory of a charming personality, a great friendliness and marked ability. "Of course, it is a wrench to give up the life to which one has grown accustomed. But it is something to have lived that life, and even when a man is beginning to get old, there is spice in variety. It will be good to watch, just as it was good to be there trying to help."

"Sorry?" said John Sharpe Williams. Not a bit of it. Only sorry I didn't do it before. Of course, there are friends I will miss, but they will be friends still."

Senator Pomeroy smiled. Pomer-

ene came to the senate with a reputation for being scarcely human, in the sense that he was considered cold and withdrawn from common mortals. No one around the senate found him that, but instead a friendly, genial man with a ready smile.

"You remember," he said, "that you wrote a story one time about my political motto being 'You never can tell?' Well, that's true; you never can tell exactly whether you are going to be glad or sorry. I will be decidedly glad to get back to my law books. I've had my little share in the senate's work, and for that I am glad."

It was so with all of them. If they felt disappointment over being defeated in the election, they did not show it. "It is the fortune of war to men in politics, everywhere," was their attitude.

Not one of these senators would say a word about expectations of returning some time to the senate. Younger men are forging ahead, and it is not often that senators return. In the House, where the term is but two years as against the senate's six, the case is different. There the partings are less seriously taken, for after all, in two years the men who go out tomorrow may be back.

There is another side to the farewells—the side of the wives and families of those who are departing. Some of them were packing today, paying farewell calls, receiving farewell calls. Others were just staying on, preparing to remain in Washington, with its social gayeties. It is a city that grows upon those who live in it. Most wives find it cold when they first arrive, but after they have been here five years or six, they do not wish to leave.

But those who are going "back home" must break ties they find it harder to sever than their husbands. So that, beneath the gayety there were some tears, and the regrets that go with leaving homes grown dear through the years.

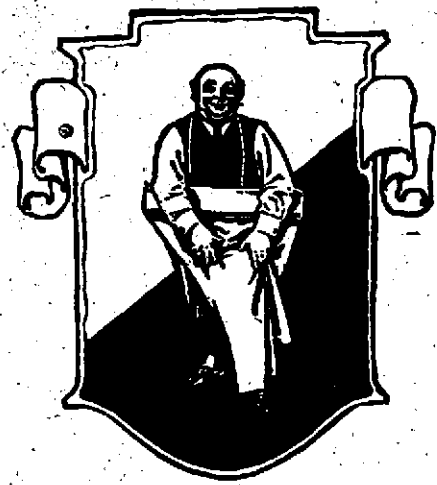

Few of the wives however, shed any tears over their husbands' defeat. They may have cried a little when the returns showed that Friend Husband had been walloped by the voters, but most of them were secretly glad, for the wife of a public man is a widow a good part of the time. And political defeat often gives back to such a wife the husband who, because of the tremendous pressure of his official life, had grown to be a comparative stranger in his own home. And it followed, therefore, that today some wives were packing for long deferred trips, or planning things that had long been laid away to await a more convenient season, when the Great Man who also happened to be husband would have the time.

And there you have both sides of the goodbye season in Washington.
